JUST RECENTLY WE discovered that we don't know what kind of a car we have been driving for almost seven years.

At least we don't know how to spell the name of it.

We took delivery of our VW bug while in Germany in 1965 and then drove it constantly until it was stolen from the parking lot of West Valley College campus in Saratoga.

It was stolen while we were attending a meeting of the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the college. (Maybe that's the excuse we should use for our poor attendance record at committee meetings. We can't afford to have our car stolen. Come to think of it, it's a better excuse than skiing in Switzerland.

Anyway we have bored you to death about the tale of our little VW bug. It was found sans engine, front wheels, etc., a few days later and eventually it was replaced by the little yellow Karmen Ghia convertible sports job that we are now driving. The Ghia also is a VW product.

But really that's not what we started to tell you.

We are glad you asked.

IN THE VARIOUS ACcounts about the automotive bugs with which we have had a personal relationship, we always spelled this name VOLKSWAGON.

And that's not right. It should be VOLKSWAGEN.

Unlike the good old Coca Cola people, who very jealously point out that "Coke" means the same thing as Coca Cola and the "C" must be capitalized whenever it is used, the Volkswagen people apparently don't care how one spells their name, as long as people buy 'em.

(Incidentally, try using a small "c" in Coke in a news story some time. We swear that the Coca Cola people are everywhere. We have been informed on numerous occasions, politely, firmly and legally, (not necessarily in that order) that if you spell "coke" with a small "c" you are in trouble.)

But for all the times we have misspelled VolkswagEN, nary a word from the good burghers in Germany.

They are probably so shocked that a guy with a name like Vierhus would be stupid, linguistically speaking, that they chose to ignore it.

Then again, it is possible they didn't know about it.

REALIZING THAT OUR grandparents on our father's side were born in Germany, admittedly we should have known better. Or, at least, we should have looked more closely at the sales contract anyway.

But now since the matter was brought to our attention, we have used the German-English and the English-German part of the dictionary to verify what we should have known from the beginning.

We found, of course, that the English "wagon" is "wagen" in German. And the English "car" is also "wagen."

"Automobile" comes up as "Kraftswagen."

And, of course, the German "volks" means "people."

End of language lesson.

Hasta luego.

FOR ALL THE THOUsands of years we have been newspapering, it has become second nature to us to have a number of pencils on hand and paper, whenever we go meandering about.

It is not that we are so intent about taking notes and such. We just want to be prepared, that's all.

But recently we were caught up the creek without a pencil. Much to our embarrassment.

We shot a picture of two little guys wheeling their bikes

IN CAMPBELL UNION (elementary) SCHOOL DISTRICT

Tax hike issue faces voters Tuesday

Citizens of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will go to the polls next Tuesday, Feb. 29, to vote on the question of whether the tax rate for the district should be raised 50-cents from the present $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation.

The $3.05 rate, if approved, will be in effect for three years.

School officials and members of the Citizens for Campbell Elementary Schools, the committee working for the tax increase, maintain that the present $2.55 rate is inadequate to maintain the current educational program of the district.

If the voters do not approve the 50-cent increase, the tax rate of the district will revert to $1.80 on June 30, 1972, unless another election is held before that time. Proponents of the tax increase submit that should the tax revert to $1.80, the district will lose $1.4 million in annual income.

The district has functioned under the $2.55 rate since 1962. A continuation of the same rate was approved by the voters in September, 1966.

Supporters of the tax increase maintain that inflationary increases in costs have made it necessary to ask for the increase in the tax rate and that no longer will increases in assessed valuation offset the rising costs.

They estimate that the assessed valuation has now leveled off and that only a 3% increase is expected next year, which will be inadequate to maintain the program without additional taxes.

They also maintain that since 1962, the state and federal allocations to the school district has been reduced. In 1962-63, they submit, 47.5% of the school funds came from state and federal money whereas in 1971-72 this allocation had shrunk to 34.6% and the property owner was forced to pick up 65.4% of the tab.

Mrs. Virginia Vaughn, chairman of the Citizens for Campbell Elementary Schools, in appealing for a "Yes" vote next Tuesday, emphasizes that it is not realistic to provide the children with a 1972 educational program at 1962 costs.

Voters in the district this Thursday, Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. will have an opportunity to view a 30-minute discussion on the tax increase issue in a special pre-election program on San Jose Cable TV Service's community access channel (Channel 12).

Tony Russo, a member of the steering committee, and John Brown, a senior citizen, will present opposing viewpoints. Mrs. Bobbie Fischler, president of the League of Woman Voters of the area, will moderate.

The program is the first of its kind on San Jose Cable TV, Harvey Ingham, vice-president of the cable firm, points out.

CUSD superintendent notifies staff of possible cut-backs

Acting on the direction of the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, Superintendent Jim D'Avis this week sent letters to all administrators and supervisors in the district that they may be released from their positions for the 1972-73.

D'Avis explained that such notification was necessary under state law. Principals must be notified before March 1 and other administrators by March 15, if any change in assignment is to be made in the next school year.

D'Avis said that if the tax increase election fails on Feb. 29, it will be necessary to make changes in administration personnel because of the loss of income to the district.

The superintendent added that teachers also must be notified by March 15, if they may not be reemployed. It is contemplated that 62 teachers will be sent such letters, if the tax election fails. He points out that without such notification, the teachers will be automatically re-employed.

D'Avis also said that many other drastic cuts will be necessary to make up the $1.4 million deficit, if the voters do not approve the 50-cent tax increase. If the measure fails next Tuesday, the tax rate will revert to $1.80 from the present $2.55 rate on June 30, 1972, unless another election is held before then.

The state law does not require that classified personnel (non-teachers) be notified as early but that it is anticipated that a similar reduction in that category will also have to be made.

Easter parade

Tentative plans for Campbell's first Easter parade are expected to be discussed at a meeting at 3 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the city hall.

The parade is planned to move down Campbell Ave. on the afternoon of Easter Sunday, April 2.

The meeting today was called by Jim Payne, Sr. and Betty Piper, co-chairmen of the event. There is a need, they point out, for various chairmen and committees to handle the action.

Board okays three more park plans

Neighborhood park plans at Rosemary, San Tomas and Capri Schools were approved by the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District last Thursday and will now be forwarded to the City Council. Approval of the Council is expected next Monday night.

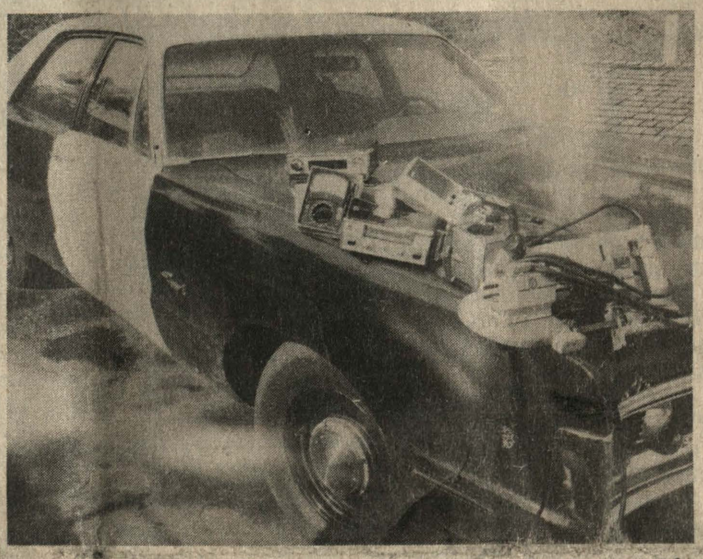
The neighborhood parks will be developed under an agreement between the city and the school district. The city allocates $10,000 to each school from park bond funds and the school district maintains the parks.

Both the school board and the City Council have previously approved plans for parks at Hazelwood, Forest Hill, Dover and Rolling Hills schools.

The trustees last Thursday after an executive session, requested that the county counsel be asked to defend board members in the suit brought against the board members by Neal Royer, former superintendent of schools.

The board also granted permission to Comarco, Inc. to enter the Meridian site property for storm drain construction and approved the developers of Los Gatos Woods to use San Tomas School area for temporary parking, provided the parking did not interfere with Little League play.

The board also granted an easement to Christian Nationals' Evangelism Commission over property near the Moorpark School, if the parcel, now state-owned, is acquired.



POLICE AUCTION---The public is invited to bid for this 1970 Plymouth Fury patrol car at the semi-annual police "bike auction" on Saturday, Feb. 26 at 10 a.m. in the city's corporation yard at the south end of Dillon Avenue. In addition to about 50 bicycles and the car, articles up for bid include an electric portable band saw, a gas operated chain saw, auto tape decks and an OHM meter. Other than the patrol car, which will be offered for a minimum bid of $600, the items "on the block" have been recovered by the police and not reclaimed by their owners.

Campbell-Central fire act to get agreement in force

Indications were this week that a mutual fire aid pact between the City of Campbell and Central Fire District, which serves "county areas" will be in existence based on a verbal agreement developed by officials of the two departments.

Fire Chief George Maxwell, of Campbell, and Central Fire Chief Curtis J. Kirby recently met to iron out the details of the mutual aid pact. Present also were Deputy Chief William Payne and Asst. Chief Richard B. Wall of Central.

Under the agreed terms, Campbell equipment will respond to fires in unincorporated pockets within the city's jurisdiction upon request by Central. Central Fire will respond, upon Campbell's request, to fires in fringe areas closer to Central District's Cambrian and Winchester stations.

According to fire officials, under the agreement, county communication dispatchers have been instructed to "ring down" Campbell stations at the same time that Central stations are alerted and vice versa.

A recent fire on Kenneth Ave., only a short distance from the Campbell headquarters station on Sunnyoaks, accelerated the development of a workable mutual agreement.

VIA LETTER TO PASO ROBLES NEWSPAPER

Teachers' unit "goes after" Neal Royer in Atascadero

The editor of The Paso Robles Daily Press, a newspaper serving the area in which the Atascadero School District is located, informed The Campbell Press this week of the receipt by the Paso Robles paper of the following letter:

(Atascadero is located between Paso Robles and San Luis Obispo. It was reported that the daily newspaper in San Luis Obispo and the weekly newspaper in Atascadero received similar letters.)

Paso Robles Daily Press 2/10/72
Gentlemen:

It has come to our attention that the issues surrounding Mr. Neal Royer, ex-superintendent of the Campbell Union School District, are not known in the Atascadero area.

Please find enclosed prints of articles dating from October 8, 1970 to January 25, 1972. These articles may be of value since Mr. Royer is still engaged in activities in the Campbell Union School District.

Yours sincerely,
Herb Wadley
president, Campbell Elementary Teachers Association

Enclosed with the letter were five articles from San Jose daily newspapers concerning the demotion of Neal Royer from the position of superintendent of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in October of 1970 and subsequent developments in the district.

Royer accepted the position with the Atascadero school system last July.

Although the demotion action by a 3-2 vote of the board split the local community both emotionally and philosophically, there had been some evidence in recent months that sincere efforts were being made to heal the rift.

Several Campbell civic leaders, when informed of the contents of the letter to the Paso Robles newspaper which was signed by the president of the Campbell teachers' group, described it as an "extremely malicious and unfair" effort to discredit Royer in his new position.

They also expressed concern over what effect it would have on the troubled school district, especially on the eve of the tax increase election scheduled for next Tuesday.

SLOW-DOWN---Before the installation of the solid striped posts (above) at the entrance and exit to the Rincon Avenue pedestrian overpass, bike riders had a ball tearing down off the overpass onto the busy streets. The position of the posts now make it necessary for most bike riders to dismount before getting off the overpass. In the above photo, Jeff Meduri, of 268 S. Wren Way, and Rich Grim, 340 Cameo Court, push their bikes through the openings between the recently installed posts.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Amato property plan to hit Council again

Campbell City Council is expected next Monday, Feb. 28, to take some action on the long-pending site plan for the 31-acre Amato property submitted by Dura Style Homes.

But City Attorney Bob Dempster this week was researching just what the proper procedure should be in the matter that has become somewhat complicated.

Last night (after press time) the Planning Commission was scheduled to review the modifications that have been made to the original site plan since it was approved by the Commission in December. The Commission's recommendation will then be forwarded to the Council for next Monday's session.

What has complicated the situation is that the City Council by a 3-2 vote had given first reading to the ordinance that changed the zoning and allowed a single-family town house complex on the property, before sending it back to the Commission.

A number of changes in the original plan were made by Dura Style Homes in an effort to make it more palatable to the residents in the adjacent areas, who have vigorously indicated that they oppose anything but single-family development on the parcel.

After the changes were made, the City Council at the last meeting again by a 3-2 vote referred the plan back to the Planning Commission for a review of the modifications.

The referral action was taken instead of giving second reading or adopting the ordinance.

The procedural question that now must be settled is whether the Council has to start all over again by giving first reading to the modified plan or can the Council go ahead and adopt the ordinance next Monday with the modifications?

Other matters on the Council agenda for next Monday include the adoption of the ordinance establishing the plan line for the south loop and also an ordinance that is more restrictive for the operation of pool rooms than the present one that is in effect.

The new ordinance would deny persons under 21 years of age to play pool or billiards in an establishment where alcoholic beverages are sold.

The Council is also expected to approve the park plans for three more schools,

Vacancy

Interviews with applicants for the vacancy that now exists on the Planning Commission will be held this Saturday, Feb. 26, by a City Council committee.

Interested citizens are urged to submit their applications by Thursday, Feb. 24.

The City Council hopes to make the appointment next Monday, Feb. 28.

Civic leaders "to star" in benefit game

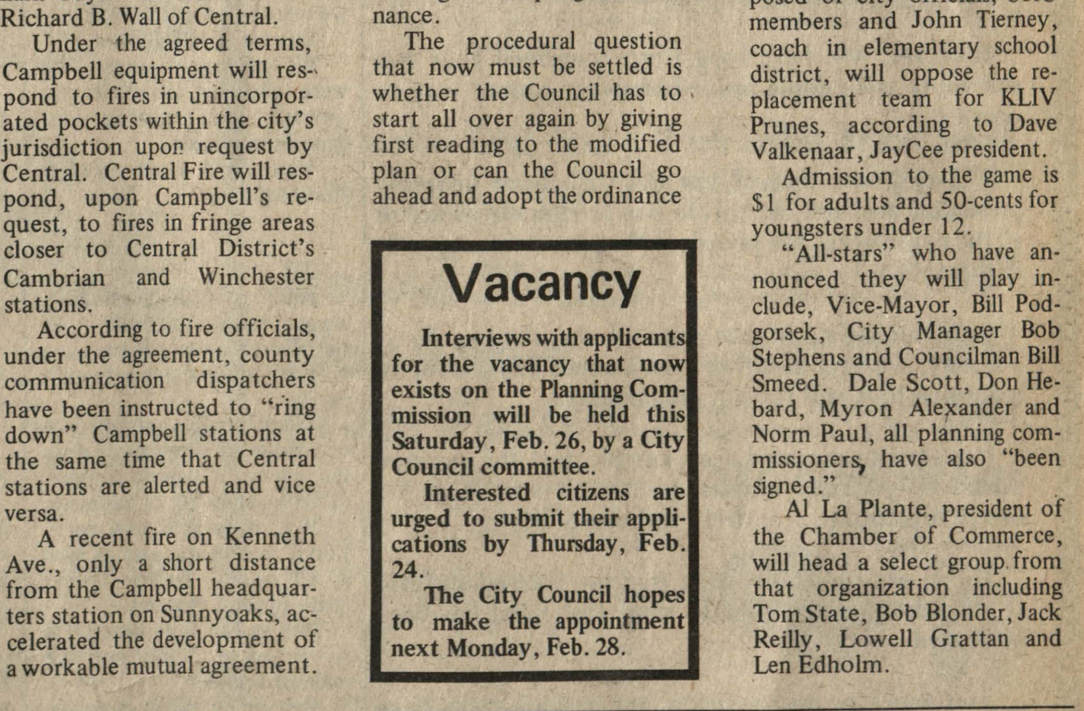
Despite the cancellation by KLIV Prunes, the basketball game sponsored by the Campbell JayCees for the benefit of their Rincon park project fund will still take place at the Campbell High gym next Tuesday, Feb. 29, at 8 p.m.

An "all-star" team composed of city officials, CofC members and John Tierney, coach in elementary school district, will oppose the replacement team for KLIV Prunes, according to Dave Valkenaar, JayCee president.

Admission to the game is $1 for adults and 50-cents for youngsters under 12.

"All-stars" who have announced they will play include, Vice-Mayor, Bill Podgorsek, City Manager Bob Stephens and Councilman Bill Smeed. Dale Scott, Don Hebard, Myron Alexander and Norm Paul, all planning commissioners, have also "been signed."

Al La Plante, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will head a select group from that organization including Tom State, Bob Blonder, Jack Reilly, Lowell Grattan and Len Edholm.



STRIKE UP THE BAND---Campbell High School Band will present their annual pops concert Friday and Saturday night (Feb. 25 and 26) at the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Preceding the concert, fathers of the band members will serve dessert. Proceeds from the concert will go toward purchasing new band uniforms. Tickets for the event are $1 for adults, 75-cents for students and 50-cents for children. Some tickets will be available at the door.

Editorial

Fire fighting

It has been reported that the Central Fire District (a county district serving unincorporated areas) and the Campbell Fire Department have reached an agreement on mutual fire suppression aid.

The agreement that was hammered out by Fire Chief George Maxwell of Campbell and Fire Chief Curtis Kirby, of Central, is similar to that which now exists between Campbell and San Jose.

The need for a workable mutual aid pact and a better understanding between the two departments was emphasized during a recent fire that occurred on Kenneth Ave., in county territory but only two blocks from the Campbell fire station on Sunnyoaks.

The Press, in a front page story, published excerpts from the tape recording of the communications between the Campbell department and Central via county radio which clearly showed the need for a better working agreement.

Last week, further comments were made on the situation in "out-on-the-limb" and in a letter from Fire Chief Maxwell.

This week The Press is publishing letters from Central Fire people who present their side and also suggest that eventual consolidation is the answer.

We do not intend at this time to go into the advantages or disadvantages of consolidation.

We just want to commend both departments for making an effort to eradicate a situation that should not have existed in the first place.

We hope the "airing" in the Campbell Press may have given the impetus that was needed.

Vote next Tuesday

This is the last issue of The Campbell Press before the important tax increase election for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District on Tuesday, Feb. 29.

The electorate of the district have been asked to approve a 50-cent increase in the present tax rate of $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation. The new rate of $3.05, if approved, will be in effect for three years.

It is a very important decision that the voters must make next Tuesday. The voters have a responsibility that should not be taken lightly, for it is up to them to decide what should be the tax rate of the school district.

It is one of the few opportunities that the citizen has to direct a governing body as to what the property owner should be charged taxwise.

In most other cases affecting the overall tax picture, the governing body levies a tax without the citizens having much, if anything, to say about it.

Obviously there has been much criticism of the school tax system that is now in effect. We mean this referral procedure by which the people decide what the rate should be.

It has been argued that the so-called "built-in NO vote" often hinders a school district in developing a constructive educational program.

However, we have long been convinced that this referral-to-the-people procedure is the proper way to operate.

We maintain that, if the need has been properly presented and the electorate has been made aware of all the conditions, the people will respond intelligently at the polls.

Unfortunately, in the case of the election next Tuesday, we feel that there are a number of pertinent questions that still remain unanswered.

It has been estimated, for example, that the assessed valuation will only increase by 3% this next year. We feel that estimate is entirely too conservative.

There is a possibility also that the state allocations to the school district will be more than what has been estimated.

And there is no provision, as far as we have been able to determine, as to what will happen should more funds be made available than what has been estimated will be the income for the district.

For example, if only 15-cents of the 50-cents is needed to maintain the present program, will the tax rate be dropped accordingly?

We are proud of the record The Press has achieved in supporting the schools over the years.

But this time we are deeply concerned over what has been termed an "iffy" situation.

We think you should be concerned, too.

It is a sad commentary on the electorate system, but, if past experience is any criteria, only about 20% of the registered voters will bother to cast ballots next Tuesday.

That means, in effect, that less than 11% of the voters are going to give the mandate as to how your dollar should be spent.

Doesn't that bother you a bit.

So turn out and vote next Tuesday.

through the new post-obstacle that Bill Wren's gang constructed at the Rincon pedestrian overpass to slow down the bike riders.

The kids B.P. (before posts) used to come riding down the overpass lickety-split scooting into the middle of the street, which not only endangered themselves, but gave heart attacks to motorists on the street, who, on most occasions, fortunately managed to miss 'em.

Now most bike riders must dismount and wheel their vehicles through the spaces between the posts.

But wouldn't you know?

We wanted, of course, to identify the youthful bicyclists. (After all, we had asked them to pose).

But we couldn't find a pencil anywhere. Not in our car or in our pockets.

Fortunately, one of the young bicyclists, Jeff Meduri, of 268 S. Wren Way, lives just a short distance away from the overpass. He offered to pedal home and get a pencil. His buddy, Rich Grim, went with him.

So, those of you who passed by and wondered why the little yellow bug was parked at the overpass and why some character was impatiently standing on one foot and then the other, with camera in hand, now have your answer.

We were waiting for a pencil not a bus.

BUT OUR WAITING WAS somewhat "educational."

We learned it was possible to ride through the openings between the posts without dismounting.

The bike rider must go slowly, of course, and his bike can't have wide handle-bars. But it can be done.

We saw it happen.

While waiting for a pencil, a couple of other bicyclists came sailing down the incline.

We focused our camera and prepared to shoot 'em when they got off and wheeled through.

But they kept right on riding.

We were so surprised we didn't snap the picture.

It would have been a good shot.

But that's happened to us before.

We recall one time we were stationed at home plate in a Little League game with our camera at the ready as a little guy came galloping home and went into his slide.

It was beautiful and would have been a great picture, as we were right on top of it.

But we didn't shoot it.

We got carried away. We were cheering the little guy onward and waving our camera in the air.

You can't shoot pictures thataway.

THIS AGE BUSINESS IS always sticky and tricky, as we have told you before.

That is when one is reporting it.

Traditionally, only on rare occasions in newspapers does the age of a woman appear. (That is, after 30, of course.)

But, it is almost as traditional to cite the ages of men at all times. We have never quite figured that out.

But in the early years, it is no problem, either for the male or female.

Just recently, for example, we added an extra year to Rusty Hammer's age. The young guy who is running for the city council. We called him 19. He won't be that age until May. Rusty didn't seem to mind, however.

Then we noted that Len Edholm, CofC manager, who was named young man of the year by the JayCees, would be 34 this year. (Len thought just plain 33 would have been a better way to put it.)

This is all, of course, leading up to another age point.

UNDER A PICTURE last week on the front page, of Don Hebard and his son, Doug, it was reported that it marked the first time in this city's history that a father and son were members of this city's advisory commissions.

Don, who previously served as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, is now vice-chairman of the Planning Commission.

Doug has just been appointed to the Youth Commission.

In the story the previous week we reported Doug's age as 13. But it was corrected to 14 (his true age) in the picture-caption.

Doug had turned 14 in October.

The caption then reported that Doug, at 14, was the youngest youth commissioner in the city's history.

That just ain't true. We goofed.

Cindy Casteel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Casteel, of 454 Queens Court, is already a member of the Youth Commission.

And, Cindy, we will have you know, just turned 14 on Feb. 7 and is some four months YOUNGER than Doug.

Cindy, by the way, is in the eighth grade at Campbell Elementary School where she is an "A" student and president of the student council.

Cindy then is THE youngest commissioner in the city's history. Next question, please.

The Council is also expected to discuss the recommendations made at a joint study session with all the advisory commissions including the formation of a new Civic Improvement Commission.

Whether the fire station on Central Ave. should remain in that spot is another item that is scheduled to come under Council scrutiny next Monday.

BANK OF AMERICA WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Three seniors were selected to represent Del Mar in the 1972 Bank of America Achievement Awards Program. The lucky trio included: Alan Ichikawa-Science and Math, Sue Linder-Liberal Arts and Steve Row-Fine Arts. Alan, Sue and Steve will receive plaques plus the opportunity to compete for cash awards up to $1,000.

WHITE THUMB?

Debbie Cibilich was named Del Mar High's Betty Crocker Homemaker of tomorrow for 1972. Debbie was chosen on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude examination. She will be the recipient of a specially designed award charm from General Mills, sponsor of the educational program. Additionally, she is now eligible for state honors, with the winner walking away with a $1,500 college scholarship and the second place finisher a scholarship of $500.

KEY CLUBBERS HOST "CLOWNS"

After much preparation, the Del Mar Key Club hosted the traveling basketball team, the Harlem Clowns on Feb. 3. With the male faculty as their worthless opponents, the Clowns provided laughs a minute with their ball-handling and "oohs" and "ahhs" from the crowd by demonstrating an assortment of unbelievable shots.

The club also elected new officers for the remainder of the year. Tim Dagg, Mike Rexroad, Jeff Hodos and Jim Ramstad emerged as president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively. Future plans for the club include the planting of numerous shade trees in the football bowl.

WINTER SPORTS RAMBLE

After coming off one of the bleakest years of Del Mar Fall Sports ever, the winter sports seem to be improving and appear to be holding their own in WVAL competition.

WRESTLERS END SEASON

Del Mar's Varsity Wrestling Team enjoyed a great preseason by defeating always tough Buchser and placing fifth out of 16 teams in the Del Mar Classic. Unfortunately the grapplers dropped off from there, with the lowpoint of the season coming when they finished last in the Camden Invitational.

The League Finals were held at Del Mar with three varsity wrestlers placing; Harold Robertson-first, Cliff Collins-second, and Isidore Sevigny-fourth. The JV's managed one first place in league, with John Day winning his division.

SOCCER SHUTDOWN

This year's Varsity Soccer Team started off with high hopes but after a dramatic tie to Homestead in the opening pre-season game, the team went downhill. The booters then lost 12 straight games including their first five straight in league.

The Dons ended the drought with a 2-1 win over Westmont in a grueling, hardfought game at Del Mar. The following game, in what looked to all present, a winning effort against eventual league champ Saratoga, the Dons were denied a victory that was obviously theirs, by a variety of bad calls and penalties. The Dons came back though and beat a tough Campbell team 1-0.

Leading scorer for the season was Marc Vasquez with Orazio Del Guidice, Al Celaya, and Steve Tom close behind. Other standouts included Steve Connell, Mark Magagna and first year goalie, Jim Nunn.

The JV's faired much better and finished with a co-championship with Campbell and identical records of 6-1-2. Top players were Dave Apland, Dean Faul, Steve McCarthy, Ron Tedesco and goalie Larry Toarmina. The starting team allowed but three goals during the entire season.

BASKETBALL DOMINATES LEAGUE

Once again Del Mar is one of the most feated teams in the league and Santa Clara Valley. Under the coaching of Dave Morgan, the Dons are currently tied for first place with Saratoga.

Pacing the Don attack are forwards Ed Wehr and Paul Drozdiak, plus the exciting and unpredictable Paul Arace at guard. The "Big Three" have been a nemesis to teams all year and appear to be the favorite in the Shaughnessy Playoffs for the WVAL Title.

Usually underrated but not forgotten for their unselfish team play are guard Jack Timmons and center Scott Russell. Truly an exciting team and one that doesn't take a backseat to anyone. In their most recent game, the Dons annihilated Blackford in a laugher, 79-37. Leading scorers were Arace-26, Wehr-16, Drozdiak-12 and Timmons 11 points.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP FOR LITTLE DONS

The Frosh-Soph continued a winning tradition by copping the league title. Time and time again the Dons outclassed their opponents, and ran away with the coveted top spot.

Outstanding players for the Little Dons were George Todd, Steve Wehr and Mark Bruening with Dale Roat and Jim Sherriff rounding out the starting five. With such up and coming talent, the future for Del Mar Basketball looks bright.

SPECIAL MEETING

By action of a majority of the members of the West Valley Joint Community College District Governing Board, and pursuant to Government Code Section 54956, a special meeting of the Governing Board of the West Valley Joint Community College District will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 23, 1972, at 5 p.m. At the meeting, which will be held in the board room of West Valley College, 44 East Latimer Ave., Campbell, the following will be considered: Personnel Matters. 1. Consider Replacement of Resigned Faculty Member in Physical Education.

Congressman Charles Gubser to run for eleventh term

FILES FOR REELECTION--- Congressman Charles S. Gubser, right, Gilroy-Republican, files his renomination papers with Santa Clara County Registrar of Voters George A. Mann. The veteran Congressman speculated that the principal issues in the campaign would be taxation, government spending, and inflation. Gubser has served the 10th District since January 1953.

Veteran Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R-Calif.), now serving his tenth term as Representative in Congress for the Tenth District, has announced his candidacy for reelection. Gubser has filed his Declaration of Candidacy with Registrar of Voters George Mann.

Congressman Gubser is a graduate of San Jose State and the University of California and is certificated as a secondary school teacher. He taught at Gilroy Union High School for four years. He now owns and operates a 30-acre pear orchard in Gilroy.

Gubser was one of the fifteen freeholders to draft the Santa Clara County Charter currently in effect. In 1950 he was elected to the California State Legislature and served for two years as an Assemblyman.

In 1952 Gubser won a five-way Republican primary and defeated the Democratic nominee in November. He started his congressional career with the Eisenhower Administration in January of 1953.

The Tenth District lawmaker's first assignments in Congress were with the Post Office and Civil Service Committee and the District of Columbia Committee. He then achieved membership on the powerful House Armed Services Committee and is now the fifth ranking Republican on that Committee.

Gubser is a ranking member of the highly important Armed Services Investigating Subcommittee. It was this committee which reported frankly on the My Lai incident and has uncovered many wasteful practices by the Defense Department.

Congressman Gubser served as an advisor to the United States negotiating team at the Geneva Disarmament Conference and participated in the drafting of a treaty to limit chemical and biological warfare. He also represented the United States in a review of NATO installations by parliamentarians from each country in the Alliance.

Gubser is the author of legislation providing for construction of the Pacheco Tunnel Project to bring water to central coast counties to serve their needs until the year 2010. He also is the original author of legislation to establish the San Francisco Bay National Wildlife Refuge. Gubser is credited with playing a major role in abolishing secret "off the record" voting in the House.

In a short statement announcing his candidacy, Congressman Gubser said "Throughout my twenty years in the House, I have tried to look to the future and have not been swept along by emotional tides of the moment.

"It is this record, my seniority in the House of Representatives, my youth and experience, which I offer to the voters for their consideration.

"Contests at election time are the very essence of free government and I look forward to them. To whomever my November opponent may be I simply say, 'My campaign will be on issues and it will be clean.'–May the best candidate win!"

Congressman Gubser speculated that the principal issues in the campaign would be taxation, government spending, and inflation.

Scouts start cookie sale

Cookies are here!

On Friday, Feb. 25, Girl Scouts-Brownies, Juniors, Cadets and Seniors from all over Santa Clara County will begin selling Girl Scout cookies. The annual sale extends through March 6.

Cookies come in five flavors and sell for $1 per box. Scout officials report that the cookies are delicious and freeze well.

Every time a box is sold, the girls earn money for their troop activities. Profits from the sale are used to improve the camping facilities and supply funds needed for volunteer adult training courses.

Girl Scouts will be ringing doorbells during the sale and manning booths in front of banks, super markets and at other stores throughout the area.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The Fall-Winter season of the N.C.D.A. is over with Scarlet La Rue's I of Los Gatos taking its third straight title. They finished off their closest rivals Lancashire Lad I, 7-5 in last Wednesday's competition. The win put them nine games ahead in the final calculations of the South Bay League "A" division.

In the "B" division, Primrose Lane II had a 15-dart lead going into last week's games. Needless to say they took the division title.

San Mateo's Prince of Wales I held the lead in El Camino League "A" division since Nov. 3. It was a tight battle though with Andy Capp's and the Black Knight tying for second on four games out of first place.

The real battle was in the South Bay "B" division. The Club Gato was a new team this season. Starting the season at the bottom, they steadily chopped their way to the top. A 10-2 victory over the Gaslighter III and the Banbury Clock II playing to a split with Lancashire Lad IV moved the Gato two games ahead of the Clock.

MOST IMPROVED TEAMS

Each season the N.C.D.A. gives a trophy to the most improved team in each league. This is determined by taking the average at the half-way point in the season and comparing it with the final average.

If a team ever backed into the award it has to be the Black Watch I. After forfeiting two matches during the season and playing several matches short a player or two, they still managed to improve their average by .020. The only other team eligible in that league was Scarlet La Rue's II improved by only .015.

Other teams to receive the trophy this year will be: Gaslighter III, Harold's of Redwood, and Primrose Lanes III.

Sunday will be the divisional play-offs and as of this writing the location has not been announced. The following week will be the finals for the Falstaff Cup. The Spring season will start March 8.

The new president has been involved with UF for the past four years as Central Area campaign chairman in 1968, chapter president in 1969, and executive vice-president on the Board of Trustees in 1970.

Did you realize that every one of our pay phones (and there are over 125,000 of them in California) now has a location card? You might ask why a pay phone would need an address, but sometimes knowing exactly where you're phoning from can prove to be important—like in an emergency when you have to call an ambulance, the police or the fire department. Or when someone is coming to pick you up and wants to know where you're calling from.

Putting location cards on pay phones is just one of the things we're doing to try to make them more useful to you.

Smart shoppers know how helpful the Yellow Pages can be when you're looking for a hard-to-find item. Without leaving your home you can get information on just about any product or service imaginable.

By reading the ads in the Yellow Pages or by calling the listed telephone numbers, you can find out store hours, credit arrangements, delivery services and much more.

The next time you're looking for an item that's hard to find, check the Yellow Pages before you leave home. You'll find whatever you're looking for—fast.

Do you know about the fast way to find the phone numbers of government offices? For your convenience, the Yellow Pages have a quick reference page containing the numbers of city, county, state, and federal offices that people call most frequently. Just look in the Yellow Pages under "G" for "Government Offices."

Friedman talks about saucers

The earth is being visited by intelligently controlled vehicles from off the earth.

Impossible? Not according to Stanton T. Friedman, nuclear physicist-lecturer, who will present his view in an illustrated lecture on "Flying Saucers Are Real" at West Valley College March 1 at 8 p.m.

Tickets for his appearance may be obtained through the college's Community Services office, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

After 13 years of study and investigation Friedman is convinced that the earth is being visited by UFOs or Earth Excursion Modules as he prefers to call them. Friedman cites data from scientific UFO studies, misconceptions about UFOs, the feasibility of travel to the stars, humanoids and the arguments of the educated non-believers to support his theory.

Friedman's background includes 14 years of experience concerning nuclear aircraft, nuclear rockets, fusion rockets and nuclear power plants for space and earthbound applications. He has been employed by Westinghouse, Aerojet General, General Motors and General Electric Co.

SUPERIOR

Sergeant Michael R. Keir, whose wife, Janis, is the daughter of Mrs. Hazel Sabbatini of 774 N. Central Ave., Campbell, has been named one of the top 15 per cent in his Air Force specialty. He will receive a Superior Performance Pay bonus for six months as a result of his selection.

He is presently serving at Lajes Field, Azores, with a unit of the Military Airlift Command which provides global airlift for U.S. military forces.

The sergeant, a 1968 graduate of Campbell High School, attended West Valley College, Yuba College, and the University of Maryland.

Organist plays at high school

An organ concert featuring Tom Hazleton will be presented in the Campbell High School auditorium March 4 at 8 p.m.

Hazleton is currently performing as staff organist at the Capn's Galley Pizza and Pipes in Campbell, Santa Clara and Redwood City, for which he was chief organ designer.

He will be playing the giant Rogers 340 theater organ in a program that will include music from Bach to Bacharach along with a silent movie.

Students in the Campbell High School orchestra are presenting the concert. Proceeds will help finance orchestra activities and purchase instruments and equipment.

More taxpayers to receive $750 homeowner's exemption

Recent changes in the homeowner tax exemption regulations will mean an estimated 5,000 additional Santa Clara County taxpayers will receive the $750 homeowner's exemption on the taxable value of their dwellings, according to County Assessor Dwight Mathiesen.

The changes will include for the first time owners of of cooperative apartments, and it will boost the total number of eligible county homeowners to about 200,000.

Additional tax savings are now available to homeowners over 62 years old if their income last year was less than $10,000. This tax relief is obtained through the State Franchise Tax Board. An information request card will be included in regular exemption applications mailed by the County.

Mathiesen advised all veterans who claim the $1,000 veteran's exemption to file a claim for both that and the homeowner's exemption. If a veteran loses his exemption he can receive the homeowner exemption if he filed both applications, Mathiesen said.

The new regulations allowing cooperative apartment owners to claim the exemption limit it to owners who actually live in their co-op apartment. Other limitations are: that the co-op can have only one class of stock outstanding, that the stockholder has the right to occupy an apartment solely because of his stock ownership, that the apartment owner receive no earning or profits from the corporation except through sale of his stock. Finally, at least 80 per cent of the corporation's gross income must be derived from the tenant-stockholders.

Exemption forms will be mailed March 1. Claims should be returned to the County Assessor, Exemption Division, 70 West Hedding Street, San Jose 95110.

LETTER TO THE CAMPBELL CITIZENS:

For most, February 29th merely reminds us it's leap year and a presidential election year.

For some, Tuesday, February 29th, 1972 is the day of the Campbell Union (Elementary) School District tax election.

For the 10,000 students in the Campbell Union School District there may never be another February 29th of such importance. On this day the citizens of CUSD will decide whether or not $3.05 should be invested in their children's education.

Those who do not take the time to vote will not have seriously considered the difference the $3.05 will make in the children's education.

Some will vote No because they feel the children can receive as good an education for a lower rate. We must challenge that idea. Are you going to market to make a purchase? If teachers were merchants and could guarantee what quality of education you would get for a set dollar, wouldn't you buy the best education available.

A YES vote says you want the best possible education. A NO vote says you think you can get a good cheap education.

No doubt there is discount education. Statistics clearly verify that many children are not as fully educated as they might have been.

It's true that you'll get the same individual attempt at excellence from the educational staff. But if the NO vote wins there will not be as many of us to do the job. The staff will have less and definitely poorer equipment to do the job. There will be more children in each class to be taught. Perhaps some children will learn just as well. Maybe some children won't lower their aspirations either. But with diminished educational opportunity we know that more children will fail to reach their goals. No, dear citizen, we're sorry you can't get as much education for $2.55 as $3.05.

We teachers in the CETA want and strive for excellence in education. We hope this is your goal too. Edcating is what we have invested our lives in because we think it has value and offers promise. Join us and invest in a promise for the future of these 10,000 students. VOTE YES, February 29th.

Letters to the Editor

TEACHER SPEAKS

Dear Editor,

Today I received my sample ballot for the Special Maximum Tax Rate Increase Election to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 29, 1972.

I couldn't help but smile at the statements of Mr. John W. Brown in his argument against the proposition.

You see, I didn't have an opportunity to read my mail until 11 p.m.–Why?–Because I teach in the Campbell Elementary Schools. I had arrived at my school before 8 a.m. I worked in my room until 8:40, when I relieved another teacher on playground duty.

I took 10 minutes off at 10 a.m. and was on duty without another break until 3:30. I worked with children in my room at the 11 o'clock recess, and supervised special activities on the playground while I ate my sandwich at lunch.

I left school at 4:30 p.m. and returned by 7 p.m. to attend a meeting. This was expected of me as part of my job. I left this meeting at 10 p.m. This, I believe, adds up to 10½ hours.

This is a longer day than many. I expect that I average between 8-9 hours a day. You see, Mr. Brown, teachers have much planning to do to provide a stimulating environment for children.

We have papers to correct, we have field trips to plan, and resource people to contact to enrich our own background or to come to the school to share ideas with our children. We make teaching devices and games to help children conceptualize ideas.

We must sort and file materials constantly to have them ready for future use and to keep our philosophies updated. We conference with parents and students outside of the 9–3:30 day.

We have group faculty meetings where we share our ideas and work toward meeting the needs of children more completely each day. Our faculty meets each week for about an hour to try to upgrade our curriculum. Many of us serve on other committees, the sole purpose of which is improvement of education.

I have spent as many as 15 hours on a weekend setting up provocative learning situations. I have never gone to my school to work when I have been alone. There are always other teachers working there too.

The list of activities that keep us busy outside of school hours is too long to cover completely.

We have only ourselves to blame for your misconceptions, Mr. Brown. Most of us love teaching, and we don't count the hours. They do take their toll on us, however, and so we have not spent the time and effort we must to keep you informed of our commitments.

We apologize to you for this. I think that we are trying to communicate with you more than we have done in the past. I sincerely hope that we are.

You ask if the quality of education has increased. I believe there is some evidence to support this. Colleges are suggesting that, perhaps, the traditional four years could be compressed into three because young people are entering more adequately prepared each year.

You suggest that your money is not benefitting children–only teachers. This I can't quite comprehend. How would it help a child to be placed in a school with money rather than teachers? Your dollars are buying experts to facilitate learning in children. Most of sincerely try.

Someone has referred to children as our most valuable resource. It takes dollars to conserve any natural resource. Unfortunately, in our inflationary economy, it takes more dollars to buy the same amount each year. Are our children worth conserving?

Most sincerely,
Marilyn Rhoades

COUNTY'S SIDE

Dear Editor,

Although unsolicited, I find it difficult not to offer some response to your articles of February 9th and 16th.

The fire which occurred at 645 Kenneth Avenue was most unfortunate, to say the least. It is the type of heartbreaker that makes firefighter and spectator alike extend condolences and open doors to the injured party, because ashes tell a sad tale, and to witness the loss of shelter and irreplaceable belongings in a flash of time prompts deep sympathy.

The fact that the fire occurred within an unincorporated "island" inside the City of Campbell is also unfortunate. Cities throughout the valley have allowed these islands to be created by virtue of annexations, and thus have also created numerous service problems.

Many residents choose not to annex and others may have no say in the matter. The tenant sees only the rent bill, not the tax bill. Political jurisdiction lines are not prominently displayed upon the street, and it may be difficult to understand why politics and tax bills dictate that some do not share the services rendered their neighbors.

Like it or not, there exists certain legal ramifications with respect to providing services outside political jurisdictions, be they City or County. Considering those covering protection of life and property, knowledgeable persons have established criteria and formal procedures which must be followed as reasonable protection for the party providing the service or assistance.

Concerning the case in point, the Kenneth Avenue fire occurred within an area literally within seconds of travel time from a City of Campbell fire station. Once discovered and reported, the "formal procedures" were placed in motion.

County Communications followed their procedure by dispatching the proper Central Fire District apparatus and personnel to the fire. Campbell Fire followed their procedure, required by the City Attorney, by offering assistance and awaiting approval for their response. The officer in charge (Battalion Chief-IB) followed his procedure by indicating "affirmative" and requesting that the Administrative Duty Officer be advised of the activities.

All involved followed their instructions, to the letter and though over-simplified above, this chain reaction activity occurred within 2 minutes and 33 seconds of the initial report. Not a record breaker to be sure, but within acceptable limits.

Whether islands exist or not, everyone cannot reside within seconds of emergency services. Fire stations and their locations are the end result of many decisions. Cost in tax dollars, the taxpayer's desire and willingness to afford, firefighting logistics and the recommendations of those who judge the strength of your fire defenses and determine the cost of fire insurance.

The fact that islands do exist does create problems, City or County. Maybe they should be annexed, thus eliminating the question of services, but this does not eliminate the jurisdictional boundry problems that provide the same question regarding concern for life and property and response from the nearest fire station. We think the answer is consolidation, but that is another story.

On Tuesday, the 15th, the Central Fire District and Campbell "fire brass hats" met and conferred in good faith, the end result being a reasonable meeting of minds regarding fire and life protection to the City and County residence within and adjacent to the City of Campbell, and this is as it should be.

Finally, I would ask that linen of a similar nature to be aired by way of press coverage or, that comments considered for publication, reflect both sides of the issue, thus providing the reader with something viable to consider.

Yours very truly,
Curtis J. Kirby
Fire Chief
Central Fire District.

VOTING "NO"

Dear Editor,

As usual, we are being bombarded with notices from the Campbell Schools to vote "yes" in the upcoming tax election–or else! OR ELSE have inferior education; overcrowded schools, unqualified teachers, fewer supplies, removal of bus service, etc. One could allow oneself the feeling of threat or intimidation or even guilt for "not wanting the best for one's children", if this threatening psychology is allowed to overshadow one's own inherent intelligence.

Two "NO" votes will issue forth from this family on Feb. 29. We are saying "NO" to philosophy. When Dr. Glasser's book, "Schools Without Failure" ceases to be the "School Bible", when Humanist teachers refrain from injecting and weaving Humanism into normal academic subjects and when representatives of all religions are given equal time along with Officers of the Humanist Society San Jose in lecturing our children in captive classroom atmospheres, we shall then reconsider.

In the past, individuals who have spoken out against school policy, have met with prejudice from areas which promote educational policy.

Those of us who speak out, while in disagreement, can still have ideas of peace, love, justice and harmony as our goal, BUT not at the price of submission.

Our neighborhood schools are becoming incubators for the breeding of germs of dissension in local communities because of their political involvements. YES! Education is important! Ask yourself TO WHOM and WHAT KIND OF EDUCATION!

Mrs. Marilyn Hillyer
3730 Century Drive
Campbell, Ca. 95008

ASKS YES VOTE

Dear Editor,

On Feb. 29 the voters of CUSD will be asked to determine the future of our educational program.

For many there is no question as to the need to authorize the Board of Trustees to establish a $3.05 General Purpose Tax Rate per $100 assessed valuation to support our elementary schools. Their vote will be YES.

For others the decision is hard to make. They are caught in an economic pinch and feel it's hard to justify an increase in taxes for this reason.

But is it?

Just as the costs to feed, clothe, and provide shelter for our children increase, so does the cost of educating them. All four elements are necessary to their health and welfare. Can we realisitically expect to provide our children with a 1972 educational program at 1962 costs?

I think all of us have a tendency to revel against taxes and justifiably so in a lot of cases, however, the school tax is the only one that I have an opportunity to vote on. I just can't take my rebellion out on the educational institution.

Sometimes I wonder if our attitude toward financing education would change if we referred to the source of school income as "tuition."

Another aspect of making a decision in support of the increase "tuition" rate is its effect on the whole community. Parents choose a residence for their family according to the value a community places on its schools. Businessmen, parents, and children profit from a good school system. We all must stand together in support of it.

As a voter, please be aware of just what this election means to you, your children, and your community. Weigh the arguments carefully. Direct your questions to those who can provide objective answers for you.

I believe that 10,500 CUSD children have the RIGHT to participate in an educational program that will help prepare them for personal success whether they eventually continue on to jobs or college.

I urge all concerned voters to join with me in voting YES on Feb. 29.

Jennie Vaughn
Chairman of the Citizens for
Campbell Elementary Schools

ANSWERS MAXWELL

Dear Editor,

The letter written by Chief Maxwell in the Feb. 16 Campbell Press regarding the Kenneth Avenue fire does little to improve working relationships between Campbell Fire Department and Central Fire District.

The "island" problems that have been described by both Chief Maxwell and the editor cannot rightfully be blamed on either fire department. Strip annexations by cities such as Campbell, without regard for the problems these strips cause for the fire and police agencies, is where the problem begins.

It is interesting to note that the new Campbell fire station is on one of these which is approximately 125 feet wide by 175 feet long.

Chief Maxwell's letter would lead the public to believe that the people living in the City of Campbell are immune from problems such as the Kenneth Avenue fire and this is not so. There are many areas within the City of Campbell that are closer to a fire station from another jurisdiction than the nearest Campbell station.

If your home or business is burning, or you are in need of emergency first aid service, you should rightfully have the nearest fire engine respond without regard to city boundaries.

Both Campbell Fire Department and Central Fire District provide the citizens within their respective jurisdictions service we can be proud of.

For many reasons, the mutual aid agreement Campbell has with the San Jose Fire Department is only a partial solution to improving the service of the fire department.

After exhaustive studies, the County Board of Supervisors, the County Executives staff and the County Grand Jury have repeatedly recommended merging of the fire services within the county as the most feasible means of improving fire protection for the various communities, both operationally and economically. In 1970, three other fire agencies surrounding Campbell merged with Central Fire District to successfully increase the level of service to their respective communities. When is the City of Campbell going to recognize this solution?

David L. Harrison,
Campbell resident
Central Fireman

ANGRY AT EDITORIAL

Dear Editor,

I read your editorial of Feb. 16 concerning the Campbell tax election with first sadness, then alarm, and then, Mr. Vierhus, I was angry!

Angry because you're saying that my second grader cannot have the kind of education to which she is entitled.

You're telling me and hundreds like me that, "sure, educate your children--as long as it doesn't cost me anything."

I'm sorry, Mr. Vierhus, but I cannot accept that. I am unwilling to accept, not only the fact that she will be unable to get the help she needs in math, but also, that children with speech defects, learning disabilities, and emotional problems, will also be unable to get the specialized attention they need.

Where do you think the cuts in our school budget are going to be made if not in loss of teachers--resulting in larger classes and elimination of special services. Anyone, even if they have no knowledge of school finances, would be able to come to that conclusion.

You're not being fair to my child! I'm not going to tell her that she can't have a quality education. Perhaps you'd like to. She's the bouncy redhead who passes your house every morning on her way to school--the one with the missing front tooth.

Mary Ellen James

TAKES ISSUE

Dear George,

We've had our differences before, but they were resolved during baseball season last year. I must take issue with you again, however, in regards to your editorial, "About that tax increase" (2-16-72).

In explaining the two points of view, you state the opposition claims the "increase in assessed valuation---has offset the need" for the raise.

These people need only to look at the official figures to see that the federal and state aid has decreased proportionately during this same period of time (from 47.5% in 1962-63 to 34.6% in 1971-72).

"Soul searching", yes, indeed. Do we leave our now superior quality of education high and dry while we wait for Sacramento to make up its mind about how to alleviate our spiraling property taxes?

I say, keep our schools going and take our wrath out on the legislators to come up with some quick relief for our overburdened pocket books.

You feel the "issue is still too 'iffy' " to decide if the raise is warranted. Our previously split Board of Trustees has UNANIMOUSLY endorsed this raise.

The two board members who had expressed doubts regarding the financial problems, are now studying the state audit. Don't you feel if there were any discrepancies they would have conveyed their disapproval or asked to have their endorsement withdrawn?

I truly feel that the "group of sincere people" (Citizen's Finance Commission who studied the situation and recommended an increase) and our Board of Trustees are about as knowledgeable a group of concerned citizens as you will find. I don't feel one bit "iffy" about my decision to vote YES on Feb. 29!

Dorothy Mitchell

FAVORS TAX HIKE

Dear Editor,

As concerned and interested parents in the Campbell Union School District, we wish to express our feelings regarding the tax election on Tuesday, Feb. 29.

In order to provide and maintain the same present quality-type educational programs, our school district must depend on the approval of the proposed tax rate of $3.05. If this proposed increase fails, we will all suffer in many ways.

We approve and support an increase in our district's tax election, and urge everyone to please help contribute to our kid's future educational needs.

Let us all give them what they deserve by voting "yes" at the polls on the 29th. There is no better investment!

Thanks so much,
Dolly & Bill Surratt

CRITICIZES EDITORIAL

Dear George,

Your editorial of February 16, 1972 (About That Tax Increase), is a first rate example of "Yes, but....."

As any observer of human behavior will attest, this method of defense is used by the person who feels a need to protest against what he knows is logical and reasonable. Sometimes the person just doesn't want to admit to being wrong, which is understandable.

This tax increase is needed, of that there is no doubt. Search deep inside yourself, George–why do you protest?

Support our schools–urge a YES vote on February 29.

Joan Franks

VOTE YES

Dear Mr. Vierhus,

We certainly concur with the statement, in your February 16th editorial, that school financing is a complicated situation. There are facts available that you did not mention, however. For example:

(1) a tax increase approval guarantees that the money is available but NOT that it will automatically be used;

(2) a high school district (Los Gatos for example) has a different tax structure and cannot be compared with our elementary district;

(3) NONE of the districts mentioned (Los Gatos, Mountain View, Sunnyvale) even without their increases are expected to function on $1.80 tax rate.

Information is available at the District Office as well as each of the elementary schools. We encourage every resident to attend meetings at the schools where facts are presented, so that they can feel adequately informed when they vote YES next Tuesday.

Very truly yours,
Raymond & Marilyn Hills

THE COWBOYS

Growing up is always painful, but for a group of boys in the new movie "The Cowboys" with John Wayne, becoming a man is an ordeal few adults would care to live through.

"The Cowboys", which is presently showing exclusively at the PruneYard Theaters is undoubtedly Wayne's best movie. While he won his Oscar as best actor for his performance as the one-eyed rascal, Rooster Cogburn in "True Grit", his new role as Wil Andersen, an aging cattle rancher, definitely reveals a depth of character which has not been present in his acting previously.

For once, John Wayne is human. He has very human problems and in the end, they overcome him. To have played a western superman in over 150 movies and then to be killed by the bad guys at HIS age is almost inconceivable!

"The Cowboys" is an extremely well acted, well written and well directed movie. It never resorts to the typical western theatrics to achieve its impact. And yet, its impact is immense. The only criticism I could offer of the movie is its violence.

While the violence is an integral part of the scripting, I guess I'm just tired of seeing movies which explore rites of violence. Without a doubt, we are experiencing a trend of movies which explore it to extents never before seen on the screen. And while this movie is quite tame in comparison to Sam Peckinpah's "Straw Dogs," I would definately not take small children to see it.

The story is quite simple. John Wayne has 1500 head of cattle to take on a drive and all his cowhands have left him to go look for gold. He's left with the prospect of waiting a year to take his cattle to market or to hire a bunch of school boys "not a one over 15 years old."

The various characterizations of the boys are extremely good and believable.

Roscoe Lee Brown, the black actor who is becoming very popular as a result of his recent movies, is the camp cook, Jebediah Nightlinger. (What I'd like to know is how he manages to make the best looking biscuits and apple pies anyone has ever seen on a trail drive.) He's a compassionate man, a little less stern with the boys than John Wayne, and a little less vulnerable to what happens to all of them.

The first half of the movie is light, often comical and it serves to acquaint us with the characters. The second half revolves around a band of ex-convict rustlers trying to take the herd away from John Wayne and his cowboys.

I'll leave the remainder for you to see for yourself. While the film is (at times) entertaining, it is not primarily intended as entertainment. It's a sad movie with a sad message, but it's very worthwhile, and for a John Wayne movie, it's a masterpiece!

4H CLUB MEMBERS

by Bret Bauer

On February 4, Campbell 4-H had their community meeting at Coventry School.

Our main discussion was the Share-The-Fun program and also the booth that Tammy Butler's father said he would help the club get for the Share-The-Fun Carnival in April.

It was Father's Night to honor our fathers and to do something a little extra for them by making them play a three-legged race with us. We also had special refreshments.

There was also a demonstration put on by Nora Smith, who did the right way, while the wrong way was done by Lynn Smith, so we could learn how to do them and judge a proper demonstration.

Our neat rabbit show that was held January 29, turned out better than all had planned and everyone had a good time.

There were 697 rabbits judged. There were 20 breeds on the Best-In-Show table and our 4-H Club had six of the 20. Best Californian was shown by Belinda Handley, Best Silver by Heather Stevenson, Best Standard Chinchilla by Michael Lucas, Best Havana, Best Creme D'Argent and Best Flemish Giant by Bret Bauer.

Given out to the different winners were 32 trophies, 30 rosettes and about 500 first through fifth place ribbons. Campbell 4-H is very proud of their six top winners and all our other ribbon winners too.

Our next meeting will be a potluck dinner before the meeting on March 3.

Latest addition to the Campbell Police is 23 year old Tom Harris, formerly reserve officer in San Jose.

Letters to the Editor

PROJECT SANTA CLAUS

Dear George,

This is an open letter to the Campbell Community and to you, to thank everyone for the time, donations and enthusiasm, which so many people gave to Project Santa Claus. It is impossible to name the individuals, businesses and groups who helped us so generously. Thank you to all of them.

Thirteen families were delighted and overwhelmed to receive not just a Christmas dinner, but a supply of clothing and toys for each child.

Twenty-five children also received stockings stuffed with candy and other goodies.

Because of the enthusiasm and the willingness of the community to open their hearts, we have decided to take Project Santa Claus one step further. Often, we are asked by the Santa Clara Welfare Department to help Campbell families with emergency needs. The spirit of brotherhood and the needs of people don't stop on December 25.

In order to ensure that the Campbell JayCees and JayCettes can continue to help those who need us, we are establishing a Project Santa Claus Trust Fund. We would appreciate any ideas or donations from community members or organizations, who feel as we do, that we can and should help those who need help.

Donations may be sent to Project Santa Claus c/o Gail Brundage, 332 Calado Ave., Campbell, Calif. 95008, or Mr. Dave Valkenaar, 1114 Linda Dr., Campbell.

Again, Thank you to everyone for making working on this project such a rewarding experience.

Sincerely yours,
Edith Bonnet,
Project co-chairman, Campbell JayCees and JayCettes.

Cougars Corner

FACULTY TO BATTLE STUDENTS

Camden's Varsity courtmen will be taking on the Camden High faculty in the upcoming game Tuesday, February 29.

The game will start about 7 or 7:30 that night. Most of the male faculty will be in this basketball battle against the Varsity team.

Last year in the Varsity-Faculty game the leading scorer for the faculty was Coach Bill Holland, with a total of 35 points. This was his first game with the Cougar faculty.

The cost will be 50¢ for students with an ASB card and $1 for students without an ASB card. All adults $1 and children under 12 are 25¢.

Last year's score was 61-81 in favor of the faculty.

"I FEEL THAT I COULD HAVE MADE FIRST CHAIR"

"I feel that I could have made first chair but I did lousy in the auditions," said Jeanette Preston, second chair in the Campbell Union High School District Honor Band.

The students from Camden High that made it in the Honor Band are: Craig Geordano, Roberta Michaels, Jeanette, Preston, and Jackie Ensunsa.

Others from Camden that will be involved are: Steve Dean, coronet; Bryan Lamy, coronet; Linda Prozynski, clarinet; John Morgan, trombone; Diane Lamy, French horn; and Greg Gleichman, baritone.

Tryouts for the Campbell Union High School District Honor Band were Tuesday, February 8, in the Westmont Band room. These students were chosen from applications that they submitted.

For the auditions the students had to play the scales and sight read or play something that they had never seen before. All of this was done in front of a couple of judges.

The upcoming concert will be Tuesday night from 8:15 to approximately 9 p.m. at Campbell High. The band will have a morning practice the day of the concert with a guest conductor directing.

The band will have a warm-up and tuning period at 7:30. There will not be any cost for this evening of musical entertainment.

"SLEUTH" A GREAT MELODRAMA

by Mike Morris

"Sleuth," an American Conservatory Theater play, will be seen by Camden's Drama Appreciation Group on April 4. The play will be in San Francisco and will be the final trip of this school year.

This production is sold out for the next two years in New York City. The critics say "Sleuth" is a great melodrama which is scarry, witty and full of surprises.

Parents are invited to join the group and ride on the district bus which leaves Camden at 6 p.m. Tickets are $3.00 each.
